

Useful Websites

National Autistic Society - <https://www.autism.org.uk>

They are the UK's leading charity for people on the autism spectrum and their families. Since 1962, they have been providing support, guidance and advice, as well as campaigning for improved rights, services and opportunities to help create a society that works for autistic people.

Mind - <https://www.mind.org.uk>

Mind provides advice and support to empower anyone experiencing a mental health problem. They campaign to improve services, raise awareness and promote understanding.

Structured Teaching - <https://teacch.com/structured-teaching-teacch-staff/>

TEACCH is a structure teaching model which enables pupils with ASD to understand their environment and work independently.

Autism Alliance - <https://www.autism-alliance.org.uk>

The Autism Alliance support, raise awareness and increase understanding of ASD throughout the UK.

Scope - <https://community.scope.org.uk/categories/learning-disabilities-and-autism>

SCOPE

= Equality for disabled people

Scope is a charity which exists to create a fair and equal society for disabled people.

PECS - Picture Exchange Communication System -

<https://pecs-unitedkingdom.com/pecs/>

The Picture Exchange Communication System (PECS) allows people with communication difficulties to communicate using pictures. The goal of PECS is to teach children with autism a self-initiating, functional communication system.

Carol Gray's Social Stories -

<https://carolgraysocialstories.com/social-stories/>

created for almost any social situation.

Social stories are used to teach autistic children about the social behaviour that's expected in specific settings like the supermarket, doctors, dentist and so on. A social story can be