Author Study Week

All pupils have been studying different authors this week. There have been lessons on David Walliams, Eileen Browne, Roald Dahl, William Blake, Clive King and others. The children have had the chance to take part in lots of different activities such as; writing fact-files, biographies and autobiographies. Some were designing new front covers and inventing new characters. In music lessons some children were making soundtracks to accompany the books and in History they were creating timelines of events. Year One even made fresh fruit salads after reading Handa's Surprise!

Sandford Mill

On Sunday 22 October a special family space science day will be hosted at Sandford Mill, with a visiting planetarium, rockets and robots, live TV transmissions from 'space', incredible pictures from space and lots of other exciting hands-on science activities for all the family.
